

Anna

Age	28
Education	Bachelor's
Status	single
Occupation	Customer service specialist
Location	Berlin, Germany

Bio

Anna has a non-tech academic background and has been working in a role that no longer feels aligned with her interests or long-term goals. She is considering switching into a new field but feels overwhelmed by conflicting advice and the sheer volume of learning resources online.

Disciplined

Empathetic

Curious learner

Self-critical

Motivation-driven

“I want clear guidance on what skills to learn next, without distractions or unnecessary options, for my career transition.

Goals & Motivations

- Understand which career paths realistically fit her current skills
- Identify what skills she needs to learn next
- Avoid wasting time on irrelevant courses
- Gain confidence before committing to a career change

Pains

- Too many career options, no clear direction
- Generic advice that doesn't consider her background
- Fear of “starting from zero”
- Uncertainty about job market demand in Germany

Behavioral Notes

- Searches Reddit, LinkedIn, YouTube for career advice
- Saves many courses but completes few
- Seeks reassurance before making decisions